B.E.T.T.I.

COMING SOON

An unrealised summer romance, a story that never truly began, and the question that lingered: "what if?" "B.E.T.T.I." blends organic guitars, modern electronic textures and Hungarian cimbalom in a bittersweet, cinematic alternative-pop track.

BIO

Mars Connor is a Budapest-based singer-songwriter whose music brings together organic guitars and modern alternative and indie-pop production. His songwriting explores love, heartbreak, self-discovery and identity, combining classic songcraft with contemporary textures and emotionally direct storytelling.

Growing up inspired by The Beatles, and later drawing influence from artists including FINNEAS, Nirvana, Muse and Billie Eilish, Connor developed a sound built around the meeting point between guitar-driven songwriting and modern pop production.
